

In Loving Memory

Ambrose Nuligak Aknavigak

It is with a very heavy heart to announce the passing of a dear husband, father, grandfather, great-grandfather, uncle and friend to many. Ambrose Nuligak Aknavigak passed away on March 21, 2012 at the Royal Alexander Hospital in Edmonton.

Ambrose was a kind, loving, good-hearted man. He always took good care of his family and took better care of his grandchildren. He believed in helping others because that is the way he was raised. If he caught caribou or fish, he made sure the elders were provided for. If someone took anything from him without asking, all he would say is "It's good, at least they are not starving." That's the kind of man he was.

Survived by his loving wife Annie, his 9 children, Bob (Mabel), Viviane, Harry (Amy), James (Darlene), Linda (Mike), Bernadette, Rosabelle (Bobby), Christine and Kyle (Kendall) and his many grandchildren and great-grandchildren and beloved son who predeceased him, Larry Pokok.

The family would like to thank all those that helped to lay our dear father to rest.
