

James Charles Jenkins

28 January 1951 – 11 September 2015

James Jenkins died at Stanton Territorial Hospital on September 11, 2015 with his family by his side.

James leaves to mourn his wife Lorna (nee Duffield), sons Jerry (Cory), James (Pam) and Brian; as well as nine grandchildren. He was predeceased by his parents Gerald and Eleanor.

James was born in Vancouver. He served in the Canadian Navy from 1968-73 as an engineer, including time spent peacekeeping in Vietnam. He moved to Yellowknife in 1977, working for the Yellowknife Housing Authority before owning Northern Lock Service and a taxi cab. He left Yellowknife in 1984 for Athabasca, AB, where he drove a school bus for ten years, and later worked as a power engineer in Lac La Biche. He returned north to Yellowknife in 2000 and worked as a power engineer for the City of Yellowknife and drove for City Cab.

Cremation has taken place and no service is planned. Please make a donation in James' memory to Stanton Territorial Hospital Foundation for palliative care.
